ABSTRACT

Designed for American Indian students planning to enter college following high school graduation, the handbook offers information on admission procedures, financial assistance, and programs. Helpful information offered includes a checklist and time line of activities to complete when applying for college; sample letters requesting information on enrollment and financial assistance; a budget sheet to determine college cost; ten rules to remember when seeking financial assistance; a checklist for financial aid --Basic Education Opportunity Grant (BEOG) and Bureau of Indian Affairs of BIA funding--and admissions; procedures to apply for higher education grants; directions on how to make an application for BIA grant money; and how to apply for a tribal roll number. Several listings of resource programs and people are provided. Listings include BIA area and agency offices including the tribes they serve; scholarship and grant programs that provide financial assistance for Indian students and/or a specific field of study; schools that offer special programs for Indian students; military-related programs; and adult vocational training services. A bibliography of nine reference books concludes the handbook. (ERB)

Oh, Great Spirit! Give me back the courage of the olden Chiefs. Let me wrestle with my surroundings. Let me once again, live in harmony with my environment..... rise up and go on. Like the thunderbird of old, I shall rise again out of the sea; I shall grab the instruments of the white man's success —— his education, his skills. With these new tools
I shall build my race into the proudest segment of your society. I shall see our young braves and our chiefs sitting in the houses of law and government, ruling and being ruled by the knowledge and freedoms of our great land.

HOW TO CHOOSE A CAREER

By Abraham H. Lass

What are you going to do with our life? What do you want to be? How are you going to earn your living? What career will give you the most satisfaction and the greatest financial rewards? What career are you fitted for?

If you say you shouldn't have to answer such important questions while you are still in high school, you are right. You probably couldn't answer them completely accurately, definitively, even if you wanted to. But you can and should start thinking about them now.

How do you go about finding out which one of the thousands of jobs and careers you could go into is the right one for you? You're not quite ready for this question - not until you've first answered a few others.

You begin with yourself with a systematic, objective knowledge of what you are like.

If you compile a list of your likes and dislikes, you then can look a bit more deeply at other things.

You will find out something about what interests you now. But you are likely in addition, to turn up interests you never though you had. Such an inventory should and, we hope will, open you up to yourself and lead you to look where you thought of looking for what you might do the rest of your life.

Wanting to be something won't make something unless you have the ability to become what you want to be. You maybe very much interested in engineering, let us say. But you don't like math and science and you get poor grades in these subjects. So, even if you're interested, you'd probably better forget about engineering. To be successful, you've got to be able to do well the things you want to do.

When you find a career that attracts you, ask yourself whether you will find in it opportunities to develop your skills and abilities; to express yourself; to contribute something to your community and your country; to achieve economic security, to experience emotional and intellectual satisfaction.

Knowing yourself well is only part of what goes into your decision about your career. You also need solid, reliable, up-to-date information about career and vocations. There is plenty of this information around.

Your public or school library has books, magazines, pamphlets, films, and other special material. See your librarian. Or, your school might have vocational guidance counselors. They will be happy to talk with you about your career plans and possibilities. They can put into your hands the materials that fit your interests, abilities, aptitudes and desires.

Typical of the kind of materials you should look at is the "Occupational Outlook Handbook", prepared by the United States Department of Labor. It contains information on the employment outlook, nature of work and education and training required in more than 30 major industries.

Talk with your parents. They've had practical experience of their own. They have first-hand contacts. They are in a position to give you should, sensible advice. You don't necessarily have to accept that advice, but listen.

Listen to other interested adults, too, for example, your family doctor, lawyer, or accountant. You can get some inside information from these people.

Your state and Federal employment services are manned by experts who know where new careers are opening up, where there is a scarcity of qualified people, what it takes to get into a large variety of careers, where your chances would be best.

HOW TO DETERMINE COLLEGE COST

There are a few very simple steps that you can use to determine approximately how much it will cost you to go to school.

The first thing to do is to make a list of each college you plan to apply to, obtain their catalogue and see how much the tuition, the cost of dormitory living, etc., will be. Mark these down on a sheet of paper as follows:

1. List of institutions you are considering. _____ _____ _____
2. Tuition and Fees. _____ _____ _____
3. Student's Board and Meals _____ _____ _____
4. Books and Supplies _____ _____ _____
5. Personal Items (clothing laundry, recreation, medical expenses). _____ _____ _____
6. Transportation (to and from school, vacations etc. _____ _____ _____
7. Total Budget (add 2 to 6) _____ _____ _____

Now you have an estimate of how much it will cost to go to school. For a more complete guide to how to determine costs, send away for a free copy of "Meeting College Costs". Publications Order Office, College Entrance Examination Board, Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey, 08540.

Again, don't worry about money, for there is help with these costs. There are numerous tuition payment waivers, scholarships, work study programs, and so on, to help!

A FEW RULES TO REMEMBER
WHEN SEEKING FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

1. Start early, well before the school year begins, maybe even the preceding year.

2. Write to many sources. It costs 15¢, A piece of paper, an envelope and your time, but it will be worth it.

3. Address communications to the "Director of Scholarships or Educational Programs" when you have no specific name or title to write to.

4. Include the fact that you are a Native American or Alaskan Native right at the start of the letter, for this will surely capture interest.

5. Show sincerity of purpose in seeking a higher education; take time when writing and think through what you want to achieve by going to school, and then put it on paper.

6. Remember, the application you submit will be all the reviewers will have to tell them about you, your financial need, and your goals and aspirations. Let yourself shine through.

7. If you have a chance, discuss your goals with your counselor or an older person who might have the same career goals as yourself, and is already working in the field of your choice.

8. Don't worry about money to go to school. Somewhere you can find it if you search hard enough. Choose your career first, get accepted to a school, and some sort of financial assistance will come your way.

9. Send a letter of recommendation from your Tribal Chairman if possible. A copy of this letter may be sent if you are writing to several sources.

10. Remember to keep a copy of all your correspondence. This will help you to remember what you have sent and to whom.

FINANCIAL AID AND ADMISSIONS CHECKLIST

The first step in your education process is to receive a letter of acceptance from the college or school you are applying to.

To help you know where you stand, we would like to have you compare what you have done to the following checklist.

I. Filled and submitted the admission applications properly.

II. BEOG

A. All students are eligible to apply for the Basic Education Opportunity Grant (BEOC). In fact, the BIA and Tribal agencies require that a student apply to this source before they will make a decision of funding from their office.

B. Each of you, therefore, should have completed the Basic Grant Application Form and submitted it in the envelope which is provided with the application form. Approximately 6 weeks after doing this, you will receive a Student Eligibility Report (SER) stating an index number. This number determines how much money you are able to receive from the BEOG program. In order to receive the money, you must bring the SER form to the Indian Financial Aid Office or send a copy.

III. BIA

To receive consideration for BIA funding, you should have done the following:

A. Submit a Family Financial Form to the Indian Financial Aid Office so they could prepare a need analysis and submit it to your agency.

B. You should have completed the scholarship application forms for your agency and submitted them directly to your agency or to the Indian Financial Office along with the Family Financial Form.

C. You should have submitted a copy of your high school transcript directly to your agency or to our office so that we could include it with the need analysis.

D. You should have submitted a copy of your letter of acceptance directly to your agency.

When your agency receives all of the above, then your application is ready to be reviewed for funding.

HIGHER EDUCATION GRANT PROCEDURES

Bureau Higher Education Grants fulfill a portion of the student's educational costs to attend a college of their choice. Financial aid applications should be made separately for the Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant and Basic Educational Opportunity Grant at each institution.

Phoenix Area grants are for all Indian college students from tribes within Arizona, Utah, and Nevada - with the exception of Navajo who have their own Area Office in Window Rock, Arizona.

1. Phoenix Area grant applications must be completed by each student and returned to their respective tribal agency to be certified as eligible to receive Bureau of Indian Affairs educational assistance.

2. Phoenix Area grants are awarded on a basis of "demonstrated financial need" as determined by the Financial Aid Office at the college the student plans to attend.

3. Phoenix Area students continuing on the grant program must submit grades and/or transcripts to the Phoenix Area Office and their respective tribe upon completion of each semester or quarter term.

Financial Aid Forms may be obtained through the Indian Education Office.

How to Make Application for BIA Grant Money

1. Decide which college you want to attend, then write to the Admissions Office at the college. Carefully follow the admission instructions they send you.

2. Write to the Financial Aids Office at the college, requesting financial aid. In this letter, say: "I am an American Indian applying for BIA grant sponsorship and matching B.E.O.G."

   Name your tribe: _____

   And your Area Office: _____

   a. BIA grant sponsorship: Send a BIA grant application (in duplicate) to the Tribal Agency in which you are enrolled: _____

   The Agency will confirm that you are at least 1/4 Indian and will send a copy of your application to your Area Office.

   b. B.E.O.G.: Follow instructions in making out the B.E.O.G. grant application. After they have processed your application, they will send you a financial judgment. When you have received this, send one copy of it immediately to the Financial Aids Office at the college.

3. The Financial Aids Office will send you forms, which you should fill out carefully and mail back promptly (on all college financial aid forms, be sure to write: "American Indian Student Application"). They will then process these forms, determine how much money they think you will need to attend college, and notify your Area Office as to how much money the college will be able to give you.

4. The Area Office will then review your financial need, decide upon the amount of BIA money to be granted to you, and notify the college.

5. The college should send you a letter sometime in April, telling you the exact amount of financial aid awarded to you, and in what form.

   Note: You should keep a personal copy of all correspondence with the college, your Tribal Agency, and B.E.O.G. Also, have your Tribal number available.

OBTAINING A ROLL NUMBER - START EARLY!

Most tribes today issue roll numbers to members who are at least $\frac{1}{4}$ Indian. This number is necessary for all students who want to apply for BIA grants and financial assistance to go to college. However, getting a number can be a very long and somewhat frustrating task so we urge you to start early - preferrably in junior high school. If you are in high school and still do not have your number, it is not too late to start. We have prepared a step by step procedure (listed below) to help you. Your Project Teacher or the Indian Education office will be able to help you with any questions.

ROLL NUMBER PROCEDURE

1. Identify your home tribe.

2. Contact the Indian Education office (642-0766) to get the address of your Tribal Agency.

3. Write to your Agency and tell them you want the forms necessary to obtain your roll number. Make two (2) copies of your letter and keep one (1) of them.

4. When you receive these forms, fill in as much information as possible. Talk with family members to get names of parents, grandparents, and great-grandparents who may already have roll numbers or who lived on a reservation at one time. Social security numbers and birthplace of relatives may also be helpful.

5. Return the completed forms to the Tribal Agency, and they will finish the task to the best of their ability. If you don't hear from the Agency within 6-8 weeks, write again and tell them how important their prompt reply is to you. Keep copies of all your correspondence with the Agency.

6. When you receive your tribal roll number, make note of it and keep the returned forms in a safe place so they can be referred to at any time.

SOME EXCEPTIONS

1. If either of your natural parents or grandparents is verified with an organized tribe, you may also be verified for scholarship purposes without obtaining a roll number. You can use the closest relative's number when applying for grants and scholarships.

2. If you are living in a foster home, your social worker may be able to help you with information about your natural parents.

3. If you are adopted, you may have a more difficult time obtaining a roll number as your records are sealed at the adoption agency until you become 18. In this event your parents can check your birth certificate to see if a roll number is there, or they can contact the adoption agency and try to get the necessary information on your behalf.

BUREAU OF INDIAN AFFAIRS HIGHER EDUCATION SCHOLARSHIP GRANT PROGRAM
P.O. BOX 1788
ALBUQUERQUE, NEW MEXICO 87103

Higher Education Assistance Specialist: Leroy Falling

Telephone Number: (505) 766-2604

The Bureau of Indian Affairs encourages all qualified American Indian students to seek higher education for the purposes of developing leadership and increased employment opportunities in professional and vocational fields.

Students are free to choose institutions and courses of study, however, any special programs or scholarships known in any given field are promoted and students encouraged to take advantage of them.

The grant program could be effective in a minority engineering activity by providing supplemental assistance to Native Americans electing to attend Engineering Colleges, and to assist with their placement after graduation in jobs affecting the welfare of Indian people.

They have published a booklet entitled, "Scholarships for American Indians," and a leaflet, "SFAI".

SPECIAL NATIVE AMERICAN PROGRAMS

Many colleges and universities offer special programs to Native American students. Some are incorporated with other minorities, while others are specifically for American Indian students. Many of the schools have a special center where students can go for assistance such as counseling, tutoring, financial aid, etc.

Following, you will find a list of schools with special programs. Feel free to contact them to see exactly what they may have to offer you.

MILITARY RELATED PROGRAMS

1. MILITARY ACADEMIES

U.S. Congressmen may nominate qualifying people to the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, New York; to the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland; to the U.S. Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colorado; and, to the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, New York. Each academy confers a BS degree and graduates of the military, naval, and Air Force academies are commissioned regular officers in their respective service.

2. THE U.S. COAST GUARD ACADEMY

The U.S. Coast Guard Academy educates young men for careers as commissioned officers in the U.S. Coast Guard. Appointments are made on the basis of an annual nationwide competition. For detailed information, interested students should write to Director of Admissions, U.S. Coast Guard Academy, New London, Connecticut 06320. Applications should be submitted prior to December 15 of the candidate's senior year in high school.

3. THE ARMY RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

The Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps offers an opportunity for a college student to earn a commission in the U.S. Army Reserve or the Regular Army at the same time he or she earns a baccalaureate degree. Army ROTC is offered at over 290 colleges and universities throughout the 50 States and Puerto Rico. Four-year ROTC scholarships are available to high school seniors who are accepted at any one of the institutions hosting the four-year ROTC program. Female scholarship recipients must enroll at one of the institutions hosting ROTC for women. Requests for application packets must be submitted to Army ROTC Scholarships, P.O. Box 12703, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania 19134.

For further information, write to: Army ROTC, Fort Monroe, Virginia 23651.

4. AIR FORCE ROTC

The Air Force ROTC is conducted at colleges and universities in 46 States, Puerto Rico, and the District of Columbia. Students may earn a commission by successfully completing either the two-or four-year program. The Air Force ROTC offers four-year scholarships to men students who are qualified air crew (pilot or navigator) and who will be entering their college freshman year.

Applications and information about the Air Force ROTC programs can be obtained by contacting the Air Force ROTC detachment on campus, or by writing to: Air Force ROTC, Advisory Service, Maxwell AFB, Alabama 36112. Applications must be submitted prior to December 31 of your senior year.

5. THE NROTC COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

The NROTC College Scholarship Program (formerly the Regular NROTC program) offers an excellent opportunity for high school graduates to enroll where NROTC units are established. Candidates are chosen as the result of a nationwide competition and receive educational and other benefits leading to careers as commissioned officers in the Navy or Marine Corps.

Detailed information and application blanks may be obtained at Navy or Marine Corps Recruiting Stations, from counselors, and the Commander, Navy Recruiting Command (Code 314), 4015 Wilson Blvd., Arlington, Virginia 22203.

ADULT VOCATIONAL TRAINING SERVICES

The Adult Vocational Training Services of the BIA is designed to help adult Indians obtain reasonable and satisfactory employment. The activities include: vocational counseling; institutional training; apprenticeships, and on-the-job training for up to two-years.

You are eligible if you are:

- a member of a recognized tribe, band, or group of Indians.
- between the ages of 18 - 35.
- living on or near the exterior boundaries of a reservation or trust land under the jurisdiction of the BIA.

On the following pages you will find an application for the employment training program. There are many steps that must be taken to be considered for this program. If you are sincerely interested, the Indian Education Office would be glad to assist you.
